EXCHANGE TRADED CONCEPTS, LLC

PRIVACY POLICY

Overview

As a registered investment adviser, Exchange Traded Concepts, LLC (“Exchange Traded Concepts” or “ETC”) must comply with U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Regulation S-P (and any other applicable regulations), which requires registered investment advisers (i) to adopt policies and procedures to protect the “nonpublic personal information” of natural person consumers and customers (referred to herein collectively as “customers”) and (ii) to disclose to customer their policies and procedures for protecting that information. Nonpublic personal information includes nonpublic “personally identifiable financial information” plus any list, description or grouping of customers that is derived from nonpublic personally identifiable financial information. Such information may include personal financial and account information, information relating to services performed for or transactions entered into on behalf of customer, advice provided by Exchange Traded Concepts to customer, and data or analyses derived from such nonpublic personal information (collectively, “customer information”). Except as set forth below, Exchange Traded Concepts may not share any of the customer information that it collects.

Background

The purpose of this privacy policy and related procedures is to provide administrative, technical and physical safeguards which assist Supervised Persons in maintaining the confidentiality of customer information collected from Exchange Traded Concepts’ customer. All customer information, whether relating to Exchange Traded Concepts’ current, potential or former customers, is subject to this privacy policy and related procedures. Any doubts about the confidentiality of customer information must be resolved in favor of confidentiality.

Responsibility

Exchange Traded Concepts’ Chief Compliance Officer (the “CCO”) is responsible for reviewing, maintaining and enforcing this policy and related procedures to ensure meeting Exchange Traded Concepts’ customer privacy goals and objectives while at a minimum ensuring compliance with applicable federal and state laws and regulations. The CCO may recommend to Exchange Traded Concepts’ senior management any disciplinary or other action as appropriate. The CCO is also responsible for distributing this policy and related procedures to Supervised Persons and conducting appropriate training to ensure Supervised Person adherence to this policy and related procedures. Since the only clients of Exchange Traded Concepts are multiple series trusts and a private fund that ETC subadvises, Exchange Traded Concepts does not possess nonpublic personal consumer information and is not obligated to distribute a privacy notice or statement. Each series trust maintains and distributes its own privacy notice as applicable.

Procedures

This policy includes various procedures adopted by Exchange Traded Concepts to implement this policy and to monitor and ensure that this policy is observed, implemented properly and amended or updated, as appropriate, including the following:

Disclosure of Customer Information

Exchange Traded Concepts maintains safeguards that comply with federal and state standards to protect the security of customer information. Exchange Traded Concepts does not share any customer information with any affiliate or nonaffiliated third parties, except as permitted by law, such as in the following circumstances:

- With the consent or at the direction of the customer;
- As necessary to provide the service that the customer has requested or authorized, or to maintain and service the customer's account;
- As required by regulatory authorities or law enforcement officials who have jurisdiction over Exchange Traded Concepts, or as otherwise required by any applicable law; and
- To the extent reasonably necessary to prevent fraud and unauthorized transactions.

Supervised Persons are prohibited, either during or after termination of their employment, from disclosing customer information to any person or entity outside Exchange Traded Concepts, including family members, except under the circumstances described above. A Supervised Person is permitted to disclose customer information only to such other Supervised Persons who need to have access to such information to deliver our services to the customer.

Security of Customer Information

Exchange Traded Concepts restricts access to customer information to those Supervised Persons who need to know such information to provide services to Exchange Traded Concepts' customers. Any Supervised Person who is authorized to have access to customer information is required to keep such information in a secure compartment or receptacle on a daily basis as of the close of business each day. All electronic or computer files containing customer information shall be password secured and firewall protected from access by unauthorized persons. Any conversations involving customer information, if appropriate at all, must be conducted by Supervised Persons in private, and care must be taken to avoid any unauthorized persons overhearing or intercepting such conversations.

Privacy Notices

The current notice of Exchange Traded Concepts' privacy policy is attached hereto.
